Are crystalline silicon photovoltaic cells covered by antidumping duty or countervailing duty?

3. Absent the affirmative determination of circumvention, are not covered by the antidumping duty or countervailing duty orders on crystalline silicon photovoltaic cells, whether or not assembled into modules, from the People's Republic of China; and 4.

Do anti-dumping and countervailing investigations reduce China's photovoltaic export value?

This finding reinforces our conclusion that anti-dumping and countervailing investigations significantly reduce China's photovoltaic export value and confirms the robustness of our results to alternative clustering levels. Table 5. Other robustness tests. Standard errors in parentheses.

Do solar panels get a final affirmative decision?

For these and other reasons, the overwhelming majority of filed AD and CVD cases end up with final affirmative determinations, generally at high margins. The same is likely to occur for solar panels as well, just as occurred with the earlier filing against Chinese solar panels.

Are Chinese PV products dumping?

Subsequently, in May 2012, the US Department of Commerce ruled that Chinese PV products had dumping behaviors, with dumping margins ranging from 18.32 % to 249.96 %, and began to impose antidumping duties.
