Are new buildings required to use solar photovoltaic (PV) technologies?

(PNA) MANILA - New and existing buildings are now required to use solar photovoltaic (PV) and other renewable energy (RE) technologies with the Department of Energy's (DOE) issuance of a policy on the adoption of the guidelines on the energy-conserving design of buildings.

Can photovoltaic systems be integrated into buildings?

Photovoltaic systems can be integrated into buildings to effectively exploit solar energy and realize distributed generation in urban and suburban environments.

Can a photovoltaic system be installed by untrained people?

Most photovoltaic systems that are installed by qualified and reputable professionals are done safely and reliably. However, having a PV electric power system installed by untrained persons can lead to trouble. Some of the common problems associated with the design, installation, and operation of PV systems include:

Can photovoltaic panels be installed on a ridge?

When installing photovoltaic panels on one- and two-family homes, it's important to understand the requirements for access pathways and the requirements for setback from the ridge, which only apply to roofs with a slope greater than a 2-in-12 pitch.

Let's cut through the confusion: Installing photovoltaic panels isn't inherently illegal, but it's like baking a soufflé - get one step wrong and the whole thing collapses. Recent court rulings across China reveal ...
