President Donald Trump on Wednesday said his administration will not approve solar or wind power projects, even as electricity demand is outpacing the supply in some parts of the U.S.

WASHINGTON (TNND) -- President Donald Trump said that his administration will not be approving windmills or solar power projects on Wednesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) -- With electricity prices rising at more than twice the rate of inflation, President Donald Trump has lashed out at renewable energy sources such as wind and solar power, blaming ...

The extra layer of scrutiny for wind and solar contrasts with actions by the Trump administration to make it easier and cheaper for companies to produce oil, coal, gas and nuclear power.

Trump, who has called climate change a hoax, has promised to fast-track energy infrastructure to meet rising electricity demand from artificial intelligence and data centers, declaring ...

In that August social media post, Trump claimed that states reliant on wind and solar power "are seeing RECORD BREAKING INCREASES IN ELECTRICITY AND ENERGY COSTS." ...

President Donald Trump declared war on renewable energy Tuesday, vowing the federal government will block new wind and solar projects.

But despite some executives' relief, Trump officials are making their next moves in a campaign to undercut the solar industry.
